SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

FBI Reports of the Franklin D. Roosevelt White House compiles FBI memoranda, correspondence, and reports on various domestic and international topics of interest during the years 1939–1945 of the FDR presidency. The reports cover such topics as American Communist Party activities, defense plant labor strikes, Axis espionage and propaganda activities in the United States and Latin America, FBI national defense activities, FBI intelligence coordination with the Office of Naval Intelligence and the Military Intelligence Division of the War Department, and the European military and political situation. Much of the correspondence is between FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and FDR advisors Brigadier General Edwin M. Watson and Harry Hopkins. The files also include articles and newspaper clippings.

Many of the reports cover instances of Axis countries' espionage activities in the U.S. and Latin American countries, including in particular German and Japanese espionage activities, and describe FBI counterespionage operations. Reports cover such topics as the German Auslands organization in Peru (Reel 19, Frame 0348), Spanish Falange activities in Puerto Rico (Reel 19, Frame 0358), the Japanese position in Peru (Reel 5, Frame 0766), Axis funds and financial activities in Argentina (Reel 6, Frame 0734), and clandestine radio stations used by the German espionage system in Latin America (Reel 19, Frame 0611). A series of reports examine Axis countries' activities in various Latin American countries, including Mexico, Brazil, Venezuela, Chile, Cuba, and Argentina.

The reports also cover strikes and slowdowns in the defense industry. Reports discuss strikes at various installations, including plants operated by the Allis-Chambers Manufacturing Company, Boeing Aircraft Company, Ford Motor Company, North American Aviation, Inc., and other companies. Some reports also discuss the need for industrial plant protection.

A number of reports reveal concerns about American Communist Party activities. One report discusses alleged American Communist Party infiltration of armed and civilian defense forces (Reel 5, Frame 0766), while another examines alleged Communist infiltration of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers and the National Association of Die Casting Workers (Reel 8, Frame 0151).

Another series of reports examine wartime developments in Europe, including Germany, Poland, and the Soviet Union. Some reports examine institutions in European countries, particularly in Axis countries. One report examines, for example, the organizational structure of the National Socialist German Workers Party (Nazi Party) in Germany (Reel 22, Frame 0001), while another report examines Nazi Party uniforms and insignia (Reel 22, Frame 0710).

Other collections published by LexisNexis related to the wartime period of the FDR presidency include American War Production Mission in China, 1944-1945; *The Documentary History of the Franklin D. Second Series, 1937–1939

FBI Reports of the Franklin D. Roosevelt White House compiles FBI memos, correspondence, and reports on domestic and international topics of interest during the years 1939–1945 of the FDR presidency. The reports cover such topics as American Communist Party activities, defense plant labor strikes, Axis espionage and propaganda activities in the United States and Latin America, FBI national defense activities, FBI intelligence coordination with the Office of Naval Intelligence and the Military Intelligence Division of the War Department, and the European military and political situation. Much of the correspondence is between FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and FDR advisors Brigadier General Edwin M. Watson and Harry Hopkins.

Many of the reports cover instances of Axis countries' espionage activities in the United States and Latin America, including in particular German and Japanese espionage activities, and describe FBI counterespionage operations. Reports cover such topics as the German Auslands organization in Peru (Reel 19, Frame 0348), Spanish Falange activities in Puerto Rico (Reel 19, Frame 0358), the Japanese position in Peru (Reel 5, Frame 0766), Axis funds and financial activities in Argentina (Reel 6, Frame 0734), and clandestine radio stations used by the German espionage system in Latin America (Reel 19, Frame 0611). A series of reports examine Axis countries' activities in various Latin American countries, including Mexico, Brazil, Venezuela, Chile, Cuba, and Argentina.

A number of reports reveal concerns about American Communist Party activities. One report discusses alleged American Communist Party infiltration of armed and civilian defense forces (Reel 5, Frame 0766), while another examines alleged Communist infiltration of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers and the National Association of Die Casting Workers (Reel 8, Frame 0151).
